

THRONG OF HOLIDAY BUYERS—TRIAL TRIP OF HOG ISLAND'S THIRD SHIP—ALLIED PREMIERS' VISIT TO LONDON

HOLIDAY BUYERS THRONING THE STREETS—A Twelfth and Market streets view. Never in the history of the city, according to Philadelphia merchants, have the people expended such a huge sum for gifts as this year.

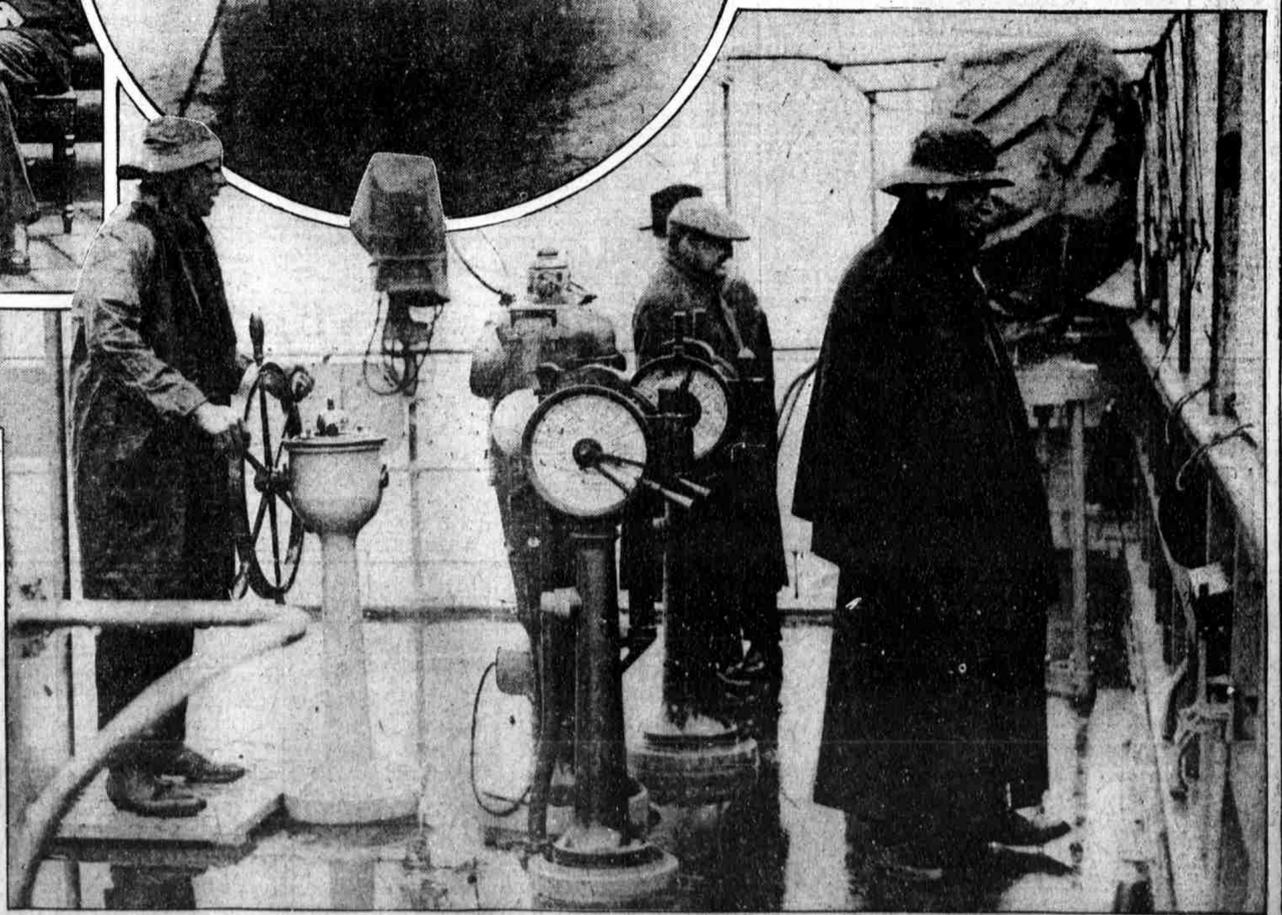

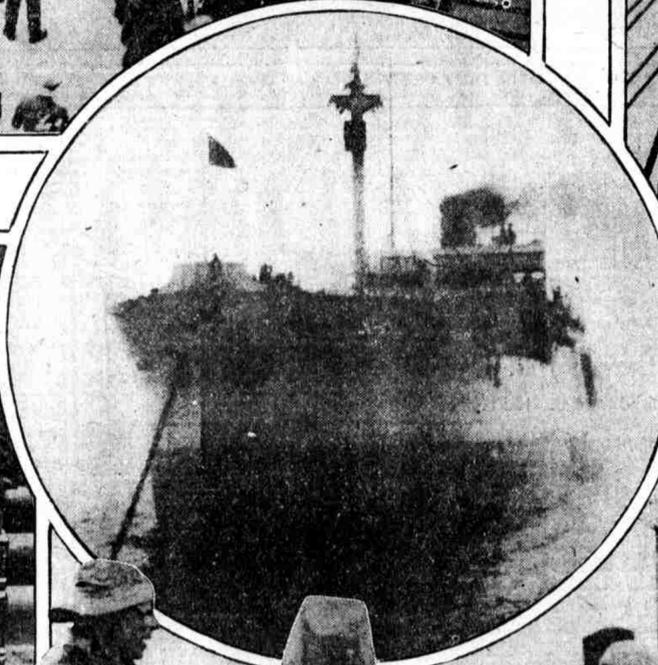

A CLEAN SWEEP OF THE SEA—Lashing a new broom to the masthead of the new cargo ship, Saccarappa, as a concession to the ancient maritime custom and superstition. In the circle at left is the S. S. Saccarappa held up a short distance beyond Fort Delaware, about forty miles from Philadelphia, by a dense fog and rainstorm. The ship's temporary master, Captain L. H. Porter, decided it was unsafe to venture further on the trial run and anchored his vessel for the night.
